What is the Codex Vaticanus?

The Codex Vaticanus (also known as B or 03) is a Greek manuscript of the Bible, dating back to the 4th century CE. It is considered one of the earliest and most complete copies of the Greek Old and New Testaments. The manuscript is written on parchment and comprises approximately 820 pages, with text written in uncial script—an early form of Greek majuscule lettering. The Codex Vaticanus is renowned for its accuracy and completeness, containing most of the Septuagint (the Greek translation of the Hebrew Bible) and the Christian Greek New Testament. Its significance lies not only in its age but also in its role in biblical textual criticism, helping scholars understand how the biblical texts have evolved over time.

Historical Context and Origin

Dating and Discovery

The precise origins of the Codex Vaticanus are uncertain, but paleographers date it to approximately the early 4th century CE, around 300–325 CE. It is believed to have been produced in Egypt, a major center of Christian monasticism and manuscript production during that period. The manuscript was housed in the Vatican Library since the 15th century, hence its name. Its early history prior to its arrival at the Vatican remains somewhat obscure, with some scholars suggesting it was part of a monastic library collection.
