The phrase "to drop a dime" dates back to the early 20th century in the United States, primarily within the context of crime and law enforcement communication. Its origins are closely tied to the widespread use of pay phones, which often cost a dime (10 cents) to operate. During the Prohibition era (1920-1933), criminal organizations and law enforcement agents frequently used pay phones to communicate secretly. When someone "dropped a dime," it meant they made a phone call, usually to report illegal activities or provide information to the authorities, often anonymously.

The phrase to drop a dime is believed to have originated in the United States during the early 20th century, particularly within urban communities and among law enforcement circles. Its earliest known usage dates back to the 1930s and 1940s, although the precise origin remains somewhat debated.

Historical Background

1. Coin Phone Calls: The phrase is thought to be linked to the use of dime-sized coins—10-cent pieces—in payphone calls. Making a phone call required dropping a dime into the slot, symbolizing the act of communicating information.
2. Informing Authorities: Over time, dropping a dime came to metaphorically mean informing or snitching on someone, especially in criminal or clandestine contexts. The act of "dropping" the coin was likened to "dropping" information or turning someone in.

Etymological Theories

Several theories attempt to explain the phrase's origins:

1. Payphone Usage: As mentioned, the phrase may have stemmed from the practice of dropping a dime into a payphone to make a call, which then extended metaphorically to revealing secrets or informing authorities.
2. Police Dime: Historically, police officers sometimes issued "dime pamphlets", small leaflets or notes, which could have contributed to the phrase.
3. Criminal Slang: In the context of organized crime, "dropping a dime" was a way to signify tipping off law enforcement, often for personal gain or to settle scores.

While the exact origin remains uncertain, what is clear is that the phrase evolved to symbolize informing on someone.
